

could not have done it without Jarrod. He knows aviation backward and forward. There is not a question that was ever asked about what the rules were, what the law was, who was at every airport—he knew. He has been the aviation committee clerk through the relaxation of the Wright amendment restrictions around Love Field and DFW Airport. When we started on this bill and we got to the perimeter rule at Washington National, it was as though Jarrod Thompson had been through this before. He knew what restrictions were and how you could ease them in a balanced way. It was in fact Jarrod who came up with the way forward when we were at a complete impasse at 9 o'clock last night. He is essential to our team as well.

Nick Rossi, a very important part of our staff, is also getting a promotion. SUSAN COLLINS has stolen him from our staff to make him Staff Director at Homeland Security. We never argue when people are promoted. We will miss him very much because he has been an invaluable member of the Commerce Committee staff. He will do a great job running the Homeland Security Committee, the Republican side of that committee staff.

Patrick Mullane is going to be moving over to the Budget Committee. He was a great help. He knows transportation backward and forward.

Todd Bertosen is a great member of our team who is staying with us and will continue to contribute so much with his expertise in marine and ocean, which is another part of our Commerce Committee jurisdiction.

I am very pleased we have been able to achieve a great bill that I know is taking us the next step toward the reauthorization bill that is going to put the FAA, our air traffic control system, our consumer protections, and our safety in the place where they ought to be.

I thank the chairman for his leadership and I yield the floor.
